

Members seek Chamber support

A group of Elk Point business owners visited last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting to ask for support against incoming businesses which they fear could "take over the town" and cause financial disaster for existing outlets.

Representatives of local video rental shops and hairdressing salons, who asked for the Chambers' help, received considerable moral support from other Chamber members, who agreed that the incoming businesses mentioned could indeed have a serious effect. A four member committee was formulated to look into what could be done about the problem, which Town representative Bruce Kleeberger said is beyond Town Council's control.

The Town of Elk Point has no law which restricts the opening of additional businesses, as long as they are operated in an area zoned for the appropriate land use. Kleeberger indicated that the Council would hear a delegation on the matter, and later commented that "the Chamber has the power to make a lot of changes."

The proposed new businesses are reportedly based in other areas, which led Chamber members to predict that the profits from these businesses will not stay in Elk Point, and that leased premises would allow these businesses to be "here today, gone tomorrow", leaving empty buildings and a folding tax base.

John McGregor chaired the short but eventful meeting, and reported on behalf of the nominating committee that some interested people have been found, and may fill the vacant spots. He suggested that changes of meeting day and time may be needed to increase Chamber involvement, along with placing more people on committees. At the present time, McGregor said "A great deal falls on very few."

The belatedly arrived letter of resignation from Vice President Al Mitchell was read, and the Chamber voted to accept this and the verbal

Transport Minister officiates at opening

A large and shivering crowd braved last Wednesday's near-freezing temperatures to huddle on the winswept tarmac at Elk Point Airport as Alberta Transportation Minister Marvin Moore snipped the scarlet ribbon to officially open the $818,000 facility.

Also taking part in the official opening ceremonies were Pastor John McGregor of the Elk Point Baptist Church, who gave the invocation, Elk Point Mayor Ed Buck, County of St. Paul Reeve Robert Bouchard, Chamber of Commerce secretary Vicki Brooker, Elk Point Airport Commission Chairman Allen Warawa, Alberta Aviation Council President Goldrick, MLA John Drobot and Master of Ceremonies Sid Holthe.

In his opening remarks, Holthe recalled the early days, when the airport site was homesteaded by Peter Keitges. He also commended the cooperation between the various levels of government in developing the much needed airport.

Mayor Buck welcomed the many visitors, and thanked the government for helping Elk Point, which is "fast becoming an exciting new voice in northeast Alberta", to achieve this long-desired goal. He spoke of the radio beacon which will be installed in the near future, and added that "we're already soliciting to have the runway extended."

County Reeve Robert Bouchard congratulated the Transportation Minister and his department for perceiving the need for facilities of this sort in small communities.

Guest speaker K.C. Miller recounted the history of flying in the Elk Point area, dating back to the 1920s biplane barnstormers, who were a regular attraction at the annual fair. In later years, an airstrip was established on the golf course property, and was well used by a number of "local boys", including Mayor Buck, Ken Palamarek and himself, who took flying lessons in the late 1960 and later purchased their own aircraft.

Firing the early 1970s, Town Council decided to try to get an airport established, to take the place of the makeshift strip. "At that time," he commented, "we were 45th on the list," but planned for the future by lining up a number of possible sites. The Airport Commission was subsequently set up and soon "put the show on the road". Miller said that the people of the area "can be justly proud of the Commission" for their efforts in obtaining the facility.

Airport Commission Chairman Allen Warawa thanked his fellow members, saying that the airport "brings us a little closer... to our human destiny to fly."

Alberta Aviation Council President Goldrick commended the foresight which went into planning the airport, which he called "a definite asset" to the com-

Tourist destination study

Where tourists can go, in the Lakeland and what they can do when they get there, is the subject of a five month study now underway by Roman Consulting Services Ltd. on behalf of Travel Alberta.

Ed Romanowski of the consulting firm and Travel Alberta Project Coordinator Rick Siddle visited Elk Point Town Council on Monday night to give an overview of the purpose of the study. Also on hand were Mary Bennett, and Sid Holthe of the Elk Point Historical Society and Lakeland Tourist Association director Ron Barwick.

Romanowski said the study is designed to identify private sector investment opportunities in tourist-related businesses in the Lakeland region. During the first phase of the study, which is now underway, the consultants have been travelling through the zone and making an inventory of "everything that affects tourists", from accomodation to biophysical resources.

Among the items inventoried are historic sites and heritage resources, with the fur trading fort sites near Elk Point "very significant" and high on the list of 108 sites in the area.

The materials collected in the inventory will be fed into computers to produce a report identifying how many tourists come to various parts of the Lakeland, and what their needs, activities and spending habits are when they arrive.

Two series of public Open Houses are scheduled as part of the study, with the first series to commence next week. Public input will be sought in ideas for tourism development and discussion of issues affecting the development. The closest open house to our

Golf club reports successful year

Elk Point Golf and Country Club President Ed Soldan reports that his group has had a very successful year, with increased membership, a fourfold jump in green fees, and excellent attendance of 68 golfers at the recent wind up tournament.

Two students, Brian Labrie and Kari Anderson, spent the summer months keeping the course in top shape for several tournaments and the steady influx of day-to-day golfers.

The Golf Club's Annual

Meeting is planned for tonight at 7:30 at F.G. Miller High School, as preparations are made for an even better year in 1986. Election of officers, review of the master development plan and appointment of a building committee for the proposed clubhouse are on the agenda. All members are urged to attend and provide input.

Leaders needed

Once again, Elk Point Guides and Brownies are in need of adult assistance, in the form of leaders and helpers. Without this help, the large number of girls involved in the program will face disappointment. If you can help out, please call Susan Cressey at 645-3841.

The General Meeting and Registration Night for the Guides and Brownies is scheduled for Wednesday, October 2, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Community Services Centre gymnasium.

GUEST SPEAKER — Dr. K.C. Miller recounted the history of aviation in the Elk Point area at the Airport's Official Opening.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT GREETINGS — Came in the form of a scroll sent by Transport Minister Don Mazankowski, and presented to Mayor Buck by Sid Holthe.

munity. Goldrick presented Mayor Buck with a handsome commemorative plaque in honor of the occasion.

MLA John Drobot introduced the Minister of Transportation, joking that Moore's farm, construction and oilfield background should qualify him as an Elk Pointite.

Moore said that the Alberta Airport Development Program has resulted in the establishment of over 80 airports in Alberta since 1973. By the end of 1986, all should have paved runways, at which time the government will move into providing funding for navigational aids which will substantially increase the safety of small airports. The minister praised Elk Point's "tremendous local input", and commented on the worth of the airport to the local business community.

Moore later had an opportunity to meet with representatives of four major oil companies at the reception which followed the ribbon cutting ceremony. Three of the four and Mayor Buck petitioned the minister for additional runway length, while the fourth joked that "if it were a little wider, I could land either way." Moore did not raise the hopes of the former group, saying that basic facilities would have to be provided for all airports, which could take up to five more years, before the Transportation department looks at any expansion. He suggested that the oil companies gear their aircraft fleets to "what is available to land on", but suggested that 500 feet of gravelled runway could possibly be established on either end for safety purposes.

A commemorative scroll from Federal Transport Minister Don Mazankowski arrived rather belatedly during the reception, and was presented to Mayor Buck by Sid Holthe. The letter accompanying the scroll extended congratulations from the federal government, and commented on the airport's vital role in both tourism and industry.

Vermilion-Viking MLA Tom Lysons, Alberta Transportation Regional Director Henri Hetu, Wayne Steel of the Aviation Branch and District Transportation Engineer John Schroeder were also on hand for the opening.

resignation of President Clark Stuparyk, with regret, and to send letters of appreciation for their efforts in the past.

Committee reports were few and brief, with only Town Liaison Bruce Kleeberger reporting at any length. Kleeberger said that action on the new water line should commence shortly, and that the new position for a Superintendent of Public Works should soon be filled from over thirty applications.

Kleeberger was pleased to note that another volunteer had been found to represent the Chamber on the General Municipal Review, with Larry Demchuk joining Ken Aarbo on that committee.

The Town of Elk Point has invited the consultant on the Provincial Government's Tourist Destination Area Study to visit an upcoming meeting, Kleeberger added.

area is scheduled for Thursday, October 10 in the Bonnyville Provincial Building. The second series is slated for late November.

The second phase of the study will involve identification of investment opportunities for both the public and private sector, which would help the growth of the tourism industry. Training, signage, and information needs will be included in the list, along with new attractions which could be developed to good advantage.

The final report is due in January 1986. This is the tenth study in a series of fourteen which will explore all Alberta's Tourist Zones. The consulting team consists of eleven members including historians, biologists, graphic artists and marketing consultants.

The Lakeland Zone is represented by a steering committee chaired by Rick Siddle and involving Lakeland Tourist Association President Lorne Assheton Smith, LTA Manager Marjorie Robinson, Fort McMurray Tourist and Convention Association President Bob Cook and Linda Beltrano of the NADC.

Crop report

We have had medium frost this past week, with excess rainfall causing some crop damage; no damage caused by high temperature. It is not known when combining will start because of the weather.

The estimate percentage completed for hard red spring wheat is 90% swathed and 10% combined; oats is 85% swathed and 5% combined; barley is 85% swathed and 10% combined; canola is 90% swathed and 10% combined.

Hard red spring wheat, barley and canola is currently 100% ripened.

The estimate yield per acre is 817 kg for hard red spring wheat, 771 kg for oats, 871 kg for barley, 1016 kg for fall rye and 454 kg for canola.

If favorable weather the percentage of each grade of grain which may be harvested for hard red spring wheat (2 CWRS) is 10%; (3 CWRS) is 70% and (Can. Feed) is 20%. Barley (1 Feed) is 80%, (2 Feed) is 20%. Canola (1 Canada) is 80%, (2 Canada) is 10%, (3 Canada) is 10%.

The total intended acreage of fall rye as compared to the past year is 105%.

Some swathing remains to be done. Many fields of Canola and oats are slightly tough needing a day or two of good weather. A small amount of fall applied chemicals are being applied where applicable.

How much is enough?

Somewhere, there must be a fine line between sufficient goods and services to fill the population's needs, and what might be called "too much of a good thing."

There must be a magic formula, or a computer program, which would tell us just how many video machines, haircuts, doughnuts and flashlight batteries a town the size of Elk Point actually needs to keep everyone happy, and at the same time provide a living for the businesses who serve the Elk Point public.

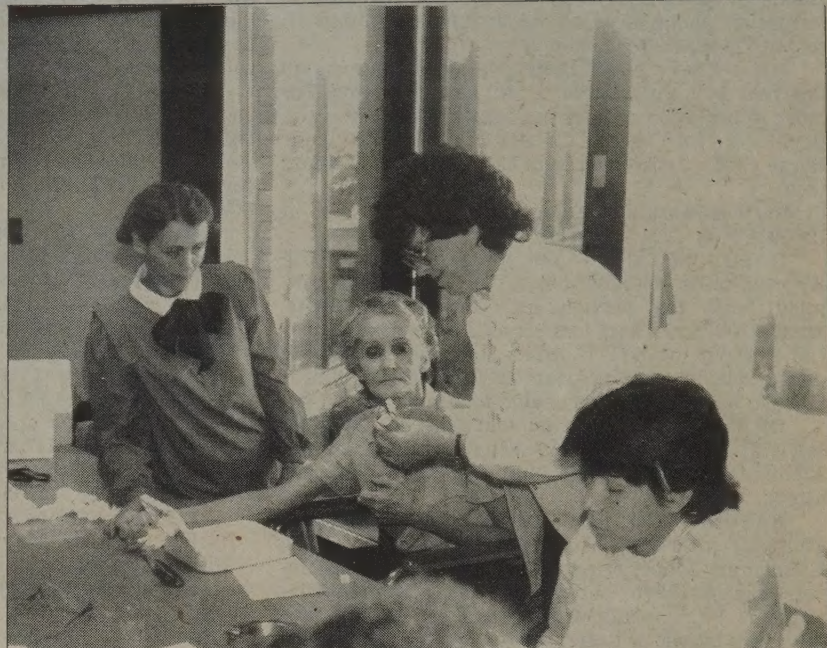

We have all been known to complain when the goods and services we want are unavailable or in short supply. But do we want our own businesspersons to expand to meet our peak needs, or other businesses to move into town to take up the slack?

This is fine, on the busiest days of the week, when demand would probably expand to meet supply, and you still wouldn't be able to rent your favorite movie or get your hair done. But what would those people do with their supplies and workers on the less busy days when even our present supplies and workers are not much in demand?

It's like the weather. For months, we searched the sky for clouds, and watched crops and gardens wither in the heat. Now we search the clouds for a ray of sun, and watch the swathed crops develop sprouts and the frozen potato tops shiver in the drizzle.

Mother Nature can't seem to hit a happy medium, can she?

And if she can't, who can expect us to?

BEAUTY BASICS — Elk Point Municipal Hospital turned into a beauty salon last Friday morning, as Karolyn Clemenson of Mary Kay Cosmetics showed the patients the latest skin care techniques.

A service for our readers

Next week, the Lakeland Review hopes to launch a new, once-a-month public service feature, in the form of a Community Calendar.

All Clubs and organizations in Elk Point and surrounding areas are invited to place their meetings and events on our calendar.

There will be no charge for meetings and similar events which do not charge admission or involve financial transactions, while for bingos, flea markets and bazaars, etc., there will be a $1 cash-in-advance, charge per insertion. Any event advertised elsewhere in our paper will automatically be included in the calendar.

Please drop by our office, or call 724-4302 to place your group's events on the October Calendar. Deadline is noon, Monday, September 30.

From the Sergeant's desk

By SGT. JIM FELL

This past week we received a complaint about the children and the way they are riding their bicycles to and from school. It might be an idea for parents to review the safety rules as they apply to bicycles and their use on the street.

A bicycle is governed by the same rules as motor vehicles when operated on a street or highway. The rider must ride as close to the shoulder as possible and in single file. The rider must signal his or her intention to stop, turn right, or left. The rider must stop at all stop signs (stop means a full stop) and not proceed until it is safe to do so. He or she must stop before entering a street or highway and not proceed until safe to do so.

A bicycle is the first vehicle type machine that a person learns to drive, it is at this time that a person develops his or her attitude toward driving and his or her attitude towards safety. It is the parents responsibility to teach a child the proper rules of the road. We have a bicycle safety program that is taught to the children during their Elementary School years but it is up to you to provide guidance the rest of the time.

The next time the kids are on their bikes, watch them for a while and see if they need a little review. I dread the day that we'll have to advise a parent that a child has been hurt or worse as the result of a bicycle or pedestrian accident.

NOTE OF INTEREST: I spent last week in Moose Jaw, Sask., training some men from that Province in Traffic Radar. While I was there I noted that a large majority of the traffic was travelling with their headlights on during the day. I inquired if it was the law and was advised that is was a voluntary campaign by the people of Saskatchewan in an effort to reduce motor vehicle accidents.

If you recall my article a while back, I advised that the Canada Safety Council was recommending that automatic "lights on" switches be installed on all vehicles in the near future. According to their statistics it does reduce accidents so come on Elk Point and District lets lead the way and "LIGHT UP".

Library opens October 5

The Elk Point Public Library will be officially opened on Saturday, October 5, 1985.

The occasion will be celebrated with the Minister of Culture, the Honorable Mary LeMessurier in attendance. Also present will be local dignitaries and representatives of libraries throughout Northeastern Alberta.

Ceremonies will begin at 2:00 p.m. and will conclude with coffee. Everyone is welcome to attend and take the opportunity to view the new library.

Information night success

Forty clubs, organizations, government departments and educational institutions packed the Community Services Centre last Wednesday evening for an overwhelmingly successful Information Night.

Jointly sponsored by the Family and Community Support Services, Lioness Club and Elk Point Baptist Church, the evening presented a wide spectrum of activities available for all ages in Elk Point and surrounding area.

From Parent Nursery to Pioneer Circle, from sports groups to cultural groups, representatives manned four rows of tables stretching the length of the auditorium and overflowing into the rooms on both sides. Colorful banners and displays were featured by many, and a wide variety of literature and other handouts was available for later study by the crowd of visitors.

A number of groups were taking registrations for the upcoming season, including Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders, Beavers, Cubs and Scouts, and the Manawanis Dance Centre. Elk Point 4-H Club had lists on which young people interested in not only the Beef project, but anticipated new horse, craft, photography and woodworking projects, could register for additional information.

Other groups for Elk Point's youngsters included the Playschool, Parent Nursery, Ukrainian Dance Club, Figure Skating and Minor Hockey.

Adult sports and activity groups such as the Golf and Country Club, Gun Club, Curling Club and TOPS were represented, as were the local service and specific interest clubs: Lions and Lionesses, Order of Royal Purple, Elk Point Oilmen's Association, hospital Auxiliary, Legion, Red Cross, Agricultural Society, Historical Society and Pioneer Circle.

The Town of Elk Point's various departments were well represented, with the FCSS, Recreation Department, and Library Board presenting informative displays. Provincial government agencies on hand were the Department of Agriculture, Alberta Career Centre, Alberta Culture, AADAC, and the Farmers Market.

RECREATION DIRECTOR LINDA SIMPSON — Greeted visitors to Information Night with a wealth of recreational opportunities for all ages.

The Lakeland Tourist Association had a large and attractive display which extolled the scenic and recreational opportunities of northeast Alberta, while Lakeland College explored educational opportunities.

A deep atmosphere of caring for the welfare of others surrounded the displays of the Crisis Centre, Parent Research In Drug Education (PRIDE), Elk Point Home Care, and the Elk Point Fire Department. The local Baptist and United Churches exuded ecumenism at a shared table.

Visitors touring the displays were often heard to exclaim, "I didn't know there was ... in Elk Point!" which proved the project to be worthwhile. Certainly, all in attendance found out "All they ever wanted to know about Elk Point, but didn't know who to ask".

Taxi, Ma'am

Elk Point once again has a taxi service. Fred Lambright, owner of Elk Point and District Ambulance Services Ltd., has expanded his operation to include a taxi, as well as a pick up and delivery service to serve the residents of Elk Point and surrounding area.

The new service will especially be enjoyed by the senior citizens and disabled residents of the area, which is one of the reasons Lambright expanded his service before the coming winter.

Council approved the issuance of discount vouchers for use by the seniors and disabled, to be funded by an Alberta Transportation grant, at their regular meeting. The vouchers should be available in the near future.

Local businesses and oilfield offices may appreciate the pick-up and delivery service run in conjunction with the taxi, which will transport goods to and from St. Paul, Bonnyville, Vermilion and other nearby areas when time is of the essence. Interested businesses may phone 724-4082 or 724-3817 for information on rates and times.

ELK POINT LIONESS CLUB — Displayed their colorful banner, their baby seat rental and Block Parent programs at the Information Night which they co-sponsored last week.

Mazankowski scholarship fund created by P.C.

'The Honourable Don Mazankowski Scholarship Fund' has been launched with a $50,000 donation from the Vegreville Federal Progressive Conservative Association. The Fund will provide scholarships to post-secondary students from within the Vegreville federal riding.

Bill Yurko, financial officer of the Vegreville Federal Progressive Conservative Association, stated that the Scholarship Fund was established as a tribute to acknowledge the dedication, and special leadership qualities of Don Mazankowski.

"We believe the Scholarship Fund is an appropriate way to recognize Don Mazankowski's commitment to the people of the Vegreville constituency and his contribution to the betterment of Canada while serving as our Member of Parliament", said Mr. Yurko.

First elected in 1968, Mr. Mazankowski has served as Member of Parliament for Vegreville for 17 years, being re-elected in 1972, 1974, 1979, 1980 and 1984. Following his 1984 re-election he was appointed Minister of Transport in the Mulroney Government.

"It is indeed an honour", said Mr. Mazankowski, "to be associated with such an endeavor. Our young people are a rich promise for the future. Assisting students from the area to further their education will not only benefit the individual scholarship recipients, but will strengthen and enrich our communities".

A Board of Trustees has been established to administer the Fund. The Trustees plan to award the first scholarships in early 1986. More detailed information will be available at a later date.

News from F.C.S.S.

INFORMATION EVENING — We from F.C.S.S. would like to thank everyone for making our Information Evening a great success. I hope that it was beneficial to you and we are looking forward to hosting it again next year.

A special thank you to the Elk Point & District Lioness, John McGreger, Millies Flowers and Crafts and Vickie Brooker of Lakeland Review for all their help.

ELK POINT INFORMATION DIRECTORY — We have the new directory ready and wouldn't you know it — two mistakes — I'm very sorry about that. The Elementary School number is 724-3880 and Dr. Kleeberger's Office is 724-4086.

Everyone is welcome to pick one up at our office, they will also be in the Welcome Package.

WELCOME PACKAGE — Our Welcome Package will be ready October 1st, 1985. The business community has been most generous, as usual. And I'm sure that the new members of our community will be most appreciative. If your business has been missed in our canvass of the town just give us a call and we can include you. Those wishing to receive a package are welcome to phone us at 724-3800 and Linda and I will deliver one to your door.

PLAYSCHOOL — Carolina has started playschool (3 and 4 year olds) with both morning and afternoon classes filled to capacity (32 total enrollment). There is a waiting list if you care to be placed on it.

PARENT NURSERY — Parent Nursery has started. They are meeting in the playschool room every Wednesday morning at 10:00 a.m.. It is for moms and tots and if you are interested give Wanda Lazar a call at 724-3514.

Red Cross starts workshops

With the massive tragedy of the terrible earthquakes in Mexico ringing in our ears, once again the Elk Point and District Red Cross start up their fall workshops and meetings, with a get-together at the home of President Violet McFadyen on Monday, September 30th. There will be quilt patches to cut, so please bring pins and scissors. Anytime after about 1:00 p.m. will be a good time to get working, and the meeting will follow at three.

There may not seem to be much we can do in the face of the world's disasters, but remember the little drops of water and the little grains of sand that make the mighty ocean and the boundless land — and we can each do our bit, no matter if it seems small, that — together — will amount to a whole lot. See you next Monday.

Wind-up meeting for Elk Point fair board

THIS IS YOUR FAIR BOARD — The large group of convenors and helpers who worked together to produce the monumentally successful 1985 Fair. Good work, everyone — your efforts were very worthwhile.

By Irene Magnusson
 Elk Point Correspondent

Approximately thirty members of the Elk Point and District Society Fair Board met for a smorg supper at the Empress restaurant followed by the wind-up reports and suggestions, on Monday, September 16th, 1985.

Reports were called for by Chairman Margret Modin, and were received from sixteen of the eighteen member Committee. Rose Doucet (Houseplants) was absent, and Alys Randall, who had assisted Grace Barwick (Seniors) has moved away.

The general opinion of the Committee members was that it had been a very successful Fair, with lots of entries, and many sections showed improved work. More prize money had been allocated — but more prizes were given out. There had been an increase in the cash amount awarded this year. It was agreed that the cash awards encouraged more entries, although the amount is small, it is an incentive worth pursuing.

A 'revision' meeting will be held next month, when the new 1986 Fair List will be drafted, with any changes noted and additions or deletions made. If the public has any suggestions they would like considered, it would be a good idea to pass these along to any member of the Committee. They will be considered.

Mrs. Modin will try to procure a copy of the official Fair Rules and Regulations booklet, put out by Alberta Agriculture, for the meeting, so members will better be able to follow standard criteria.

A few comments on where to place the Prize List booklets, so they would be available for exhibitors, were voiced. Some liked the 'one place only' plan, others thought they should be available at many locations. This will be considered. Cost of printing the booklets has a bearing, as the Committee felt they could not produce an unlimited supply — but should have plenty for those who would use them. It was noted there had been a shortage of tags, although many were made.

Mrs. Modin thanked all those who had contributed to make Elk Point's Fair one of the best in the area, and commented on the good feeling of accomplishment it gives these volunteers when the Fair is over, to feel they have participated in a job well done.

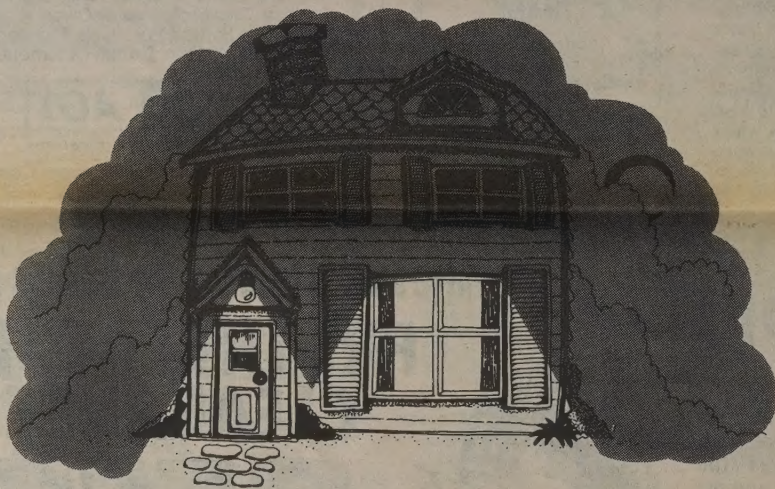

Those who helped with the Fair, in various capacities, are: Deanna Easthope; Muriel Holthe; John Bennet; Bea Campbell; Shari Baumgardner; Edith Mitchell; Sharon Kuhn; Darlene Sereda; Grace Barwick; Grace Pinder; Ivy Dunlop; Gaby Bayduza; Rose Doucet; Lillian Demchuk; Bea Williams; Vicki Brooker; Donna Babcock; Irene Lindquist; Charyl Lindquist; Carol Metz; Violet McFadyen; Lawrence Modin; Margret Modin; Nancy Heinemann; and others I have missed (sorry). All of these are dedicated to making the hometown product as good as it can be.

Prizes were awarded by some town shops and businesses. The Fair Committee is always pleased to use the spacious Elks' Hall, with plenty of room for the exhibits. Next year's Fair will surely be 'bigger and better' than ever.

The October Fair Board meeting will be on the 21st, 7:30 p.m.; at the home of Bea Williams, in Elk Point. Bring along your ideas for revisions, new plans, list of discards and your old '85 Prize List. Work will commence on the 1986 booklet.

ENERGY WATCH

Need more light?

Do it right!

With the change in seasons and the amount of natural light available "falling" daily it's a good time to look at home lighting. To help you reduce your electric bill your neighbours at Alberta Power recommend the following energy savings tips:

- Suit the lighting in a particular area to the activities likely to occur there so you don't use more light than you need.
- If lights are not being used, even if only briefly, turn them off.
- Use 3-way bulbs, dimmer switches, and timers for greater flexibility and convenience in lighting.
- Consider using lower wattage bulbs in areas where lower levels of light will do.
- Dust bulbs and light fixtures regularly.
- Use fluorescent lights rather than incandescent whenever possible. They are 3-4 times more efficient and last 18-20 times longer. Fluorescent adaptors and kits are available to reduce installation costs.
- Consider rearranging your furniture to take best advantage of available light.
- When redecorating consider using lighter colours for walls, ceilings, drapes, furniture etc.
- Use less efficient longer life bulbs only in hard-to-reach places.
- Avoid double bulbing. Two 50-watt bulbs use more electricity than one 100-watt bulb.

For more information on how to reduce your lighting costs send for your complimentary copy of our Residential Lighting booklet. Write to: Alberta Power Limited, Energy Management, P.O. Box 2426, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 2V6.

Clandonald news

By Shirley Osinchuk
Clandonald Correspondent

Harvest time is here, but we seem to be doing more anxious sky-watching than harvesting.

FALL

What is fall?
Time of work,
A time of fun,
Or is it that?
Maybe a fall,
A real fall
Downward, downward,
A never ending fall...
But to stop all confusion
Let's just call it Autumn.

Roger Osinchuk

Kindergarten has started in Clandonald School, with seven students. Mrs. Shirley Pfefferle is the teacher again this year.

Fish and Game members are enjoying their private fishing hole. The record book shows over two hundred fish caught. Members, please remember to sign in and record the number of fish you catch.

Since August 12 these people have been among the winners in the Agricultural Society Draw: Dever DeFord, Marion Peacock, Henry Dyjur, Lori and Ed Podhaniuk, Lawrence and Lubie Parchewsky, and Patricia Minish.

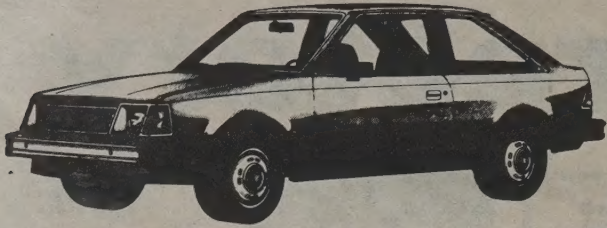

Cal and Janice McGuckin, presently of Smoky Lake, had a son, Dustin Harold, on Aug. 24. He weighed in at 8 lb., 12 oz., at the University Hospital in Edmonton. Jean and Jerry McGuckin, and Ralph and Irene Thompson, who now live in Merit, B.C., are the proud grandparents.

On August 30, Malcolm and Leanne Nowosad had a son at the Royal Alexandra Hospital. He weighed 8 lb., 6 oz., and has been named Tyler Scott. Proud grandparents are Andy and Jean Pashulka and Victor and Jessie Nowosad.

Fall is a time for leaves,
And a time for breeze,
It might even make you sneeze.
